THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

Food for thought: Don't ask us why, but Colma, the city of the dead, was the only district to increase its contributions in Tuesday night's Mothers March.

Could be there's gold in "them thar hills."

JOE DIMAGGIO, MARILYN MONROE and publicity are three words that are like peas in a pod—guess you know that by now.

Now who do you suppose is handling publicity for the OLPH Men's Club forthcoming dance? None other than Daly City's JOE DIMAGGIO. And that's only the half of it. There's another Joe D. living in Daly City. One's at 854 Bellevue and the other 94 90th street.

Neither of the local Joes, however, have either Joe's money or his Marilyn, the former of which is only small concern and the latter being a case of only one to a customer.

Some punks weaseled their way into the Misbehave club's teenage dance last weekend, slapping around young ladies, but were given more appropriate accommodations later at the city jail... testimony to the hospitality of the DC police.

The rec department hopes there'll be standing lodgings at the city bastille for the junior hoods trying to bust-up Daly City's teen club.

Plugging a new chain: Members of the DC Rod and Gun are sending out a chain letter, only it doesn't pay off in greenbacks.

Each guy who hooks up on the chain is supposed to send in a fishing plug.

If it's not broken, the clubbers may stand a good chance of going into competition with the Weber Tackle company.

BILL KATZ, former scribe and adman for this publication, announces from Seattle a new arrival to the KATZ enjammer clan by the name of JANET RUTH, born December 30 and weighing in at 7 lbs., 13 oz.

Asked how the SF Seals were coming along, their publicist, WALTER "THE GREAT" MAILS, visiting DC kids last week, said confidently, "As of right now we're in first place."

Postman's vignette: DC mailman DICK MILKOVICH brought a nice piece of mail to LEO GIANNECCHINI, talented young DC pitcher, a while back. It was Leo's contract from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The next day he had another letter for the young athlete.

This one didn't start, "Dear Sir,"... the salutation was "GREETINGS."

Places you wish you could be: LOIS VICTORIA MONGAN, wife of Jeff Hi's vice-principal JOHN, is off on a 16-day cruise in the Caribbean, travelling on the S. S. Alcoa Cavalier.

GEORGE GLASS, Hilltop Market owner, played quite a role in grocery clerks labor dispute this week. A members of the negotiating board of the San Francisco Grocers Association, it was Glass' suggestion that all compromise and offer the clerks a $3 a week raise. This suggestion later became a reality.

CITY WATER EMPLOYEES GET IN THE MOVING SPIRIT

THIS ISN'T EXACTLY how it was done, but the general idea gets across as water department workers Wilma Riley, Allen Hertel and Beatrice Thimis prepare to move into their new quarters at 6134 Mission street. Effective

February 15, all transactions with the water company will be made at the new office, instead of the old city hall offices. A staff of three persons will be maintained at the new location. The move was made as part of the police expansion program. Police headquarters will take up the entire east side of the city hall when the project is completed.

Injured Youth Still Unconscious: 13 Days

Daryl Olsen Hall, 15-year-old Jefferson high youth, was still unconscious today 13 days after being hit by an automobile at the Alameda-Lake Merced-Lynnwood intersection.

Attendants at Franklin hospital, where the youngster is confined, said today his condition was "about the same" and his chances for survival were "not too good."

His mother, Mrs. Clyde Olsen, 170 Los Olivos avenue, has remained at his side throughout the ordeal.

The boy's physician, Dr. O. W. Jones Jr., could not be reached for comment, but it was believed the youngster had suffered severe brain injuries.

The accident took place a week ago Friday when Hall, riding a bicycle east on Alameda, was hit by a car driven by Donald F. Wilson, 19, of 41 Crestwood drive, Wilson was westbound on Alameda boulevard and turned left onto Lynnwood drive when he struck Hall's bicycle.

Meanwhile state highway officials prepared to call for bids Monday for installation of signals at the intersection. The three-phase signals will be constructed at a cost of $107,000, of which the city of Daly City will pay $20,000.

George Pingry, Westlake resident who is assistant chief right-of-way agent, northern division, for the highway department, said bids would probably be opened towards the end of this month and work would begin about the middle of March.

One of the signals will be located at the Alameda-Lake Merced boulevards intersection, while the other will be about 200 yards east, between Belmont and Cliffside drives.

JEFF ELEMENTARY AWARDS $3212 BID FOR PAVING BLOCK ON ORANGE STREET

A low bid of $3,212.55 for the paving of a block of Orange street was awarded to Douglass & Woodhouse of Redwood City by the Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District at the regular meeting on Thursday, January 28. The street is being improved jointly by the school district and the Pacific Gas & Electric Company whose new substation fronts on the street. In all there were eleven bids ranging from $4,945.88 to the low bid.

February 18 was established as the date to open bids on a seven classroom multi-purpose room building on the Olympic school site in Westlake. It is expected a bid will be submitted by a firm that has perfected a faster, more efficient type of construction called "lift-slab."

The Board signed the architectural prints for the Crocker school and Jefferson school multi-purpose buildings. The prints will now be submitted to the State Department of Architecture where it is expected they will remain for two and one-half months due to the huge backlog of plans which must be reviewed by the Department.

A report was heard on flood damage to the newly completed site work at the Garden Village site. Clogged catch basins at 87th and Washington Streets during the downpour of January 9 forced a huge volume of water to flow through the school yard causing serious erosion. The Board ordered repairs and effort be made to prevent a recurrence of the damage.

A letter from Mr. A. F. Stewart, contractor for the Colma school, was read and his request for an extension of time was noted. The Board took note of the contract-

Twenty-Four Hour Fire Protection Will Be Offered

Four new full-time firemen will go to work for Daly City February 16, making possible the maintenance of a 24-hour paid fire fighting crew for the first time in the city's history.

Up to now the regular firemen have not been on duty at night, with reserves filling in on night-time alarms.

The council moved Monday night to hire the four men, effective February 16. Installation of new dormitory facilities at Fire-

HEARING ON REZONING SET FOR PLANNERS

Three public hearings will be held Tuesday by the planning commission when they meet for a regular session at 8 p.m. in the council chambers.

Matters up for hearing include re-zoning of Lot 10, Block 5, School house Land association, from commercial to industrial; application of Antonio and Annie Vallera, 141 Werner street, Daly City, for re-zoning land in Castle Trace Homestead from single-to multiple dwelling; application of

Buses Will Stay But Rate Hike Seen Later

Buses serving the Daly City area will continue rolling.

The San Francisco board of supervisors Monday voted not to discontinue the No. 76 and No. 56 lines, as recommended by the San Francisco public utilities commission.

At the same time, however, it appeared imminent that San Francisco would at some time in the future ask an increase in fare for one or both lines.

A contingent of eight Daly City area representatives weathered the five-hour supervisory session Monday to hear out fate of the local buses.

Asks Continuance

Dan Andersen, city administrator, spoke before the supervisors first, asking that a continuance be granted on the abandonment in order that Daly City might consult further with the public utilities commission regarding fare hikes.

The supervisors decision to keep the local buses running was made with the understanding that Daly City would hold further sessions with the utilities officials on the subject of financing the losing lines.

The muni railway claim the No. 76 (Broadmoor-Westlake) shows a $32,795 annual deficit and the No. 56 (Cemeteries) loses $13,795 a year.

Eliminate Loss

While the two buses will be kept rolling for an undetermined length of time, San Francisco's aim is to reduce or eliminate this annual loss, which amounts to a total of nearly $46,000.

One suggestion was that a fare of five cents be charged on the Cemeteries run. At present the bus is a transfer line, and no fare is charged.

The whole problem, however, for this area, revolves around the No. 76, which is already a 15-cent line.

Daly City Chamber of Commerce officials proffered the idea that the San Mateo county runs be classified in a separate zone.

Offset Losses

Thus, the five-cent charge for the

No. 56 might bring in enough additional revenue to offset losses for both lines.

A cemeteries association spokesman suggested a 10-cent tariff for the cemeteries run, but the local Chamber said this would place too much of the burden on Mission street riders.

"What it boils down to," said Chamber President Bob Hunter, "is that the muni wants us to agree to underwrite or subsidize any losses sustained by each line."

Always A Deficit

"Under the present set-up," he continued, "The No. 76 will always show a loss, being a shuttle bus. If the local buses were designated as a part of a trunk line the losses would be minimized or even eliminated, under the muni bookkeeping policy."

Those who represented north county interests at the hearing Monday were: Daly City Councilman James Kennedy, Grant Holman of the Broadmoor Property Owners' association, Hunter, Fred Martin, Marshall Sanders, Ray Charette, of the Chamber of Commerce, San Mateo County Supervisor Thomas J. Callan Sr. of Colma, and Andersen.

DEPARTS IN CAR TUESDAY MORNING

An all-points bulletin has been issued by the Daly City police department for the capture of a 29-year-old ex-GI who is believed to have robbed the home of his best friend here and burglarized two Daly City stores after a drinking spree.

Police said Lincoln Brumett, who had been living at 49 Mission Circle since December 23 with Robert Andrew Schwindt, 23, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schwindt, was a prime suspect in two burglaries and the theft of $291.76 from the Schwindt residence.

Pulls Out Tuesday

Brumett left the Schwindt residence late Tuesday morning, allegedly taking some $26 in cash, a payroll check for $137.50 and the family's vehicle.

He left at between 2:15 and 2:45 a.m., according to the senior Schwindt.

His departure coincided almost exactly with two burglaries of business houses at the adjacent Mission street area, police say. A third attempt was foiled when a lock failed to yield.

At approximately 1:15 Tuesday morning the Shannon Hardware store, 6730 Mission street, was robbed of $209, the Spud Nut Shop, 6714 Mission street, was relieved of $3.50 and an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into the Vista Grande market, 6350 Mission street.

Mode of Operation

In each instance, wads of burnt paper were found on the scene, leading police to believe that the burglaries had been committed by the same man.

Police learned of the approximate time of the burglaries from Mrs. Christine Hansen, 23 Hillcrest drive, who said she was alarmed by her dog's barking about 1 a.m.

Stepping outside, she said she saw a man acting suspiciously and asked him what he was doing, but he fled.

Can't Believe It

In the wake of these events, the Schwindts were numbed with dis-

THIEF GETS $317 AT BROADMOOR

Broadmoor police are conducting an intensified search for a burglar who lifted $317 in broad daylight Wednesday from a Dunks street home.

Officers said the man used a jimmy on the window to enter the home of Joseph Luciani, 70 Dunks street, and escape with $317 in cash. The burglar thoroughly ransacked the house to find the money. Of the total, $300 was hidden in a chest in the bedroom. The remainder was in change.

Another burglary, apparently by the same operator, was attempted at about the same time, 5 p.m., at the home of Henry Suenderman, 1624 Bryant street. The thief left after going through the house and finding no cash.

A neighbor got a brief glimpse of the burglar as he was entering the Luciani home, but by the time she had notified police he made good his escape.

Broadmoor police were kept busy Wednesday, as they apprehended three youths attempting to siphon gas out of a vehicle on Sullivan street, behind the Serra Theater.

Thomas Noonan, 471 C street, Colma, was leaving the theater with his wife shortly after 12 midnight. As he approached his car he saw the three youths siphoning gas from it.

He sent his wife back to the

CASENTINI IS COUNTY HEAD OF ITALIAN GROUP

At a meeting held recently at Colma, delegates from the Italian-American Clubs of San Mateo County elected Dan Casentini of Colma as President of the Council of Clubs. Mr. Casentini recently served as President of the Daly City organization. As it's leader, he instigated and created the campaign for the selection of the "Citizen of the Year Award" for the Northern End of the County.

Elected as Vice-President was Guido Sbragia of San Mateo and Mr. Roy Barghini of Daly City was re-elected as Secretary.

The Council of Clubs represents a group of Italian-American Clubs and a majority of Italo-American citizens who work for the betterment of the communities in which they live, through social and civic duties.

CITIZENS CANDIDATE COMMITTEE FORMED

Formation of a citizens' committee to recommend qualified candidates for Jefferson Elementary school board positions took place Wednesday night at the city hall before an enthusiastic crowd of more than 50 persons.

A total of 25 Daly City civic, veteran and social organizations were on hand at the initial session of the "screening" committee got underway.

Professed purpose of the committee, as explained by Tom Jenkins of Broadmoor, who was elected president, is to "secure qualified people to run for school board positions."

The group started off by naming two committees, one for by-laws, headed by Mrs. John Sorenson, and one for determining what qualifications are necessary for trusteeship.

Lionel Farber will head that segment of the study.

Fear from some quarters that the group would turn out to be a "political" weapon, were squashed by the president, who said, "It will only be political if the members

DEMOCRATS WILL BACK CONVENTION'S CHOICE

At a breakfast meeting Saturday, five of the seven announced Democratic candidates for Assemblyman from this district gathered and agreed to support wholeheartedly the candidate chosen to run against incumbent Daniel J. Creedon, Republican.

At the same time the demos branded Creedon a "political child" of Senator Parkman, charging that he was being "brought up in the school of representation of special interests such as the liquor lobby and the poker lobby."

The 25th district assemblyman candidates said further that, "This is a good clean assembly district and the people are deserving of a good, clean representative."

"We have faith in the judgment of the delegates to the county convention. We intend to give concerted support to the designee of the convention (the convention will name one of the seven to run against Creedon)."

The demos spokesman continued, "Creedon was lucky in 1952 because of the split in the Democratic party with three candidates run-

MOTHERS MARCH NETS $5000 HERE TUESDAY

Mothers went on the march Tuesday night to bring back funds for the fight against polio, but the total fell short of last year's contributions by more than $200.

Mrs. Sanford Vickers, general chairman of the Mothers' March, said $4810.24 was taken in, compared with $5099.20 last year.

Breakdown showed the following amounts collected for the various districts: Colma, Holy Angels, Hillside PTA, $801.45; Woodrow Wilson, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Jefferson high PTA, $479.45; James L. Snell, Holy Angels, $1025.39; Crocker, $221.37; General

Pershing, $229.64; Westlake, $1935.06; Colma, Inc., $107.88.

Mrs. Vickers extended her thanks to all the ladies whose aid made the drive successful.

She added that any persons missed in the porch-light campaign Tuesday could make contributions by calling her at PL 5-3590, or by mailing the donation to 155 Abbot street.

Pacific Manor and Sharp Park brought in $340.50 and $253.45, respectively, to the Daly City drive, but the amounts are not recorded for the Daly City area.

bers make it that way. We have no intention of allowing politics to creep into the organization."

Jenkins pointed out that there are rarely enough candidates running for school board positions here. "There's plenty of qualified people," he said, "if we can just discover who they are and encourage them to be candidates."

Jenkins explained that the group would not endorse any particular candidate, but would merely pass on that candidate's qualifications.

The committee will attempt to recommend at least two people for every trustee post, to avoid charges of outright endorsement of any particular candidate.

"We might recommend as many as 10 people if that many appear qualified to the committee," he said.

Any organization having more than 25 members and within the school district's boundaries may send two representatives to the screening committee, Jenkins said.

In addition to Jenkins, other temporary officers named Wednesday were: Mrs. J. White, vice president, and Mrs. J. Mullen, secretary.

Next meeting of the group is set for February 18, at which time the two sub-committees will bring back their reports.

belief.

The father said later, "He was a very nice boy. We had no reason in the world to distrust him."

Brummett had met Schwindt's son more than a year ago while stationed in Texas, and they had been close friends since that time.

The two youths had been working at odd jobs in Daly City while waiting for something permanent.

Drank A Lot

The only reason the Schwindts could give for Brummett's sudden transformation of character was his excessive drinking.

"He used to drink quite a bit," the father said. "We tried to tell him that too much drinking wasn't good," he continued.

"We know he's never been involved in anything like this before," Schwindt added.

Brummett is believed headed south. It is known that his father lives in Anaheim, Calif., while he has a brother at Camp Roberts, his mother and sister reside in Yuma, Ariz., and he has other relatives in Texas.

Biggest Loser

Biggest loser, besides the Schwindt family, was the Shannon Hardware store. Owner Al Arnaud, 75 Willis street, said some $45 in change and $160 in currency that had been kept in a filing cabinet were taken. The culprit also took a pistol valued at $18.50.

The thief gained entry to the hardware store by going in through the basement and cutting through the screen with wire cutters.

At the Spud Nut Shop, owner Jan Kruk said the thief had entered by breaking a glass window in the rear and reaching in to open the lock. A total of $3.50 in change was taken, but the thief missed $50 under the counter at the rear of the store.

One Failure

The unsuccessful attempt to break-in was made at the Vista Grande Market, where Frank Bisordi reported a small wire screen broken. Apparently the burglar could not manage the lock, or was frightened away.

Investigating officers Sgt. Dave Johnstone and Jack Walsh said in each case wads of burnt paper were found at the scene of the burglaries. These were apparently used to illuminate the area the burglar was working, they said.

Breakdown of losses at the Schwindt home showed that Brummett had made off with the father's wallet, containing all his personal papers, a payroll check, and $26. Mrs. Schwindt's purse, containing small change, and the family's '38 model car.

DC VET FIREMEN TO HOLD 28th BANQUET

Daly City's veteran firemen's organization will gather Saturday night for their 28th annual banquet.

The school architect submitted preliminary plans for improvement of the lower yard at the Westlake School. The Board noted there are sufficient funds in the budget for the improvements as outlined and directed further progress on the project.

A letter from the District Attorney informed the Board the original agreement to purchase ten acres of land on Wildwood Drive has been rescinded by Court Order. A new agreement to purchase from Henry Doelger, Inc., the Olympic school site and the Vista Del Mar site on Bradley drive is being prepared.

Resolution 54-1-28A was signed calling for bids on the paving of Chester street between Orange street and Abbot avenue. The builder of Callan Heights has agreed to pay one-fourth of the School District's share of the cost of paving the street.

The Board heard a report on the methods and effectiveness of the custodial-maintenance care of the school property.

Letters of resignation were read from Mrs. Foulia Lamp, Mrs. A. Conrad and Mrs. Mary Balch. Hired in the place of these resignations were Miss Beverly Maldonado, graduate of San Francisco State College, to teach second grade at Westlake, Mrs. Helen Delafield, former school nurse at Sunnyvale and Sausalito, and Miss Ruth Dietterle, graduate of the University of California, to teach third grade at Garden Village school.

The Cellar Act, passed by Congress in 1943, provides for establishment of Foreign Trade Zones in the United States.

Youth Week Will Be Celebrated At Christian Church

Youth Week will be observed Sunday at the Vista Grande avenue Christian church, 101 Vista Grande avenue.

Eunice Carpenter, familiarly known among young people of Northern California as "Carp" will speak at the morning hour on "Youth Look at the Disciple Program." Bayshore Founders Meet Wednesday

Throughout the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Japan, and in many countries of Europe, honor is being paid Alice McLellan Birtney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst this month. This is the 57th birthday of the Parent Teacher Association.

Bayshore PTA will hold a Founders Day celebration in honor of this event at the next regular meeting, February 10, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. W. W. Liebert and Mrs. Marsh Datzman, co-chairman, have gone all out to make this an outstanding variety show.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

All are most welcome to attend. Executive meeting of the Bayshore PTA was held January 29 in the teachers' lunchroom. Mrs. John Pleskach, rag drive chairman, reported the rag drive was a huge success. Sincere thanks go to the teachers of the Bayshore school, students and parents for the splendid cooperation.

Broadmoor Annexation Keyed By Supervisors

Annexation of Sterling Tract and Unincorporated Colma to the Broadmoor police protection district was formally approved Thursday by the county board of supervisors.

Shortly after the move was okayed by the board, Broadmoor police began patrolling the new districts.

All was quiet in the newly-annexed area this week, the police reported.

NO WITCH HUNTS HERE, VFW SAYS

There will be no "witch hunting" for suspected communists by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in this area, according to A. L. Cuykendall, Broadmoor Village, Commander of Lake Merced Post No. 9921, VFW.

The announcement came as a result of recent news stories from the east which indicated the national organization of 1,200,000 overseas veterans would soon start an intensive campaign to seek out suspected communists on the neighborhood level and turn the names over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"A great deal of mis-information has been made public," Commander Cuykendall said. "The VFW in California has never considered a program of 'witch hunting' for Reds. No Post or committee has the authority to initiate such action."

If any member of the VFW should suspect a person in his community of actions indicating efforts to endanger this country, and then turned that person's name in to the FBI, the action would be carried out as an individual citizen, but not in connection with any VFW campaign or with VFW sanction, it was explained.

"No one will dispute the fact that it is every citizen's duty to report a thief or any other law breaker to proper authority," he declared.

"The VFW has won many national awards for its outstanding patriotic and community service work," Commander Cuykendall noted. "We feel that the most effective means of combating communism and other forms of subversive activity is through education, example in citizenship and community service."

No names of persons in the Broadmoor area have ever been submitted to the FBI for investigation, he declared. "There is no committee and no investigations have been made. We think the FBI is the proper authority to handle this problem."

VISITS DAUGHTER AT SAN DIEGO CAMP

Mrs. Albert Fawcett, 399 Ellington street, returned recently from a visit with her daughter, Marilou Fawcett, in San Diego, where Miss Fawcett is serving with the Waves.

Miss Fawcett is a graduate of Jefferson Union High school.

During the first part of her two week visit there, Mrs. Fawcett visited her daughter at the hospital, where she was confined for five days following a skating accident.

Later the two toured the area and took a trip to Mexico.

Lions Definitely To Have Benny Bufano As Art Show Judge

It's definite, the Daly City Colma Lions report, that Benny Bufano, much-publicized San Francisco artist-sculptor, will be a judge at the Youth Art Contest March 12.

Elio Fontana, chairman of the Lions' sponsored event, said Bufano would be on hand Friday, March 12, the first day of the annual art show at the community center.

"A great deal of mis-information has been made public," Commander Cuykendall said. "The VFW in California has never considered a program of 'witch hunting' for Reds. No Post or committee has the authority to initiate such action."

If any member of the VFW should suspect a person in his community of actions indicating efforts to endanger this country, and then turned that person's name in to the FBI, the action would be carried out as an individual citizen, but not in connection with any VFW campaign or with VFW sanction, it was explained.

Hold Dessert Whist

A dessert luncheon and whist party will be held Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 p.m. The site will be St. Finn Barr's church auditorium.

Miss Josie Beretta is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edward Palmer.

Date for the event was set this week by Fontana. The art show will commence Friday and extend over the weekend.

Slight changes in the general make-up of the contest will be made this year, Fontana said. In the lower elementary grades more stress will be put on class projects, rather than individual work.

MUNI BUS AND THE COMIC OPERA

paraphrase a famous saying of Bert Lahr, "Politicians is da funnest people."

This newspaper, which has campaigned actively for maintenance, and even extension, of bus service here was somewhat amused to notice the politicians jumping on the "I did it" bandwagon when the San Francisco board of supervisors agreed not to abandon bus service in the north county.

The news was hardly further than the city desk of most newspapers when arms bent backward in a hilarious attempt of back-patting.

Seeing that something had happened for which somebody was bound to get credit, the whole kit and kaboodle of the officials, scattered from hell to breakfast, ran wildly about, raving and searching for an ear that would listen to them extol their own virtues.

This great congregation of Daly City's saviours appeared more ludicrous when we recollect our recent drive to extend the local bus service.

Prospects of extending the buses appeared hardly favorable, but a newspaper believed it was worth the effort, no matter how remote the chances, if there was an outside possibility that the efforts would pay off in the form of better local service.

The rank amateur in the subtle art of politicking could see that putting their money on the extension would be like tabbing Rozinante to win the Kentucky Derby.

They didn't have a winner then, so the political noises were conspicuously quiet.

So now, the first time anything beneficial happens on the bus lines the clamor of oratory and self-praise reaches comic opera proportions.

Now that the credit has been divided into fractions of microscopic parts, there isn't much of a lion's share left for us to claim.

LONG TIME DOING NOTHING

We'd like to throw in an editorial reminder this week about the Daly City promotional signs that were in the process of planning more than a year ago.

While every other peninsula community displays broadsides at every ingress and egress, proclaiming the advantages of their city, Daly City persists to let a few 1 x 3 ft. signs pretend to do the job.

There are three main highways that cut through this city, all of which are obvious sites for shouting the various benefits of life in Daly City.

Logically, a promotional stunt of this type would fall in the realm of Chamber of Commerce activity, with, naturally, the full support of city officials.

We understand that efforts in this direction were launched more than a year ago by the Chamber.

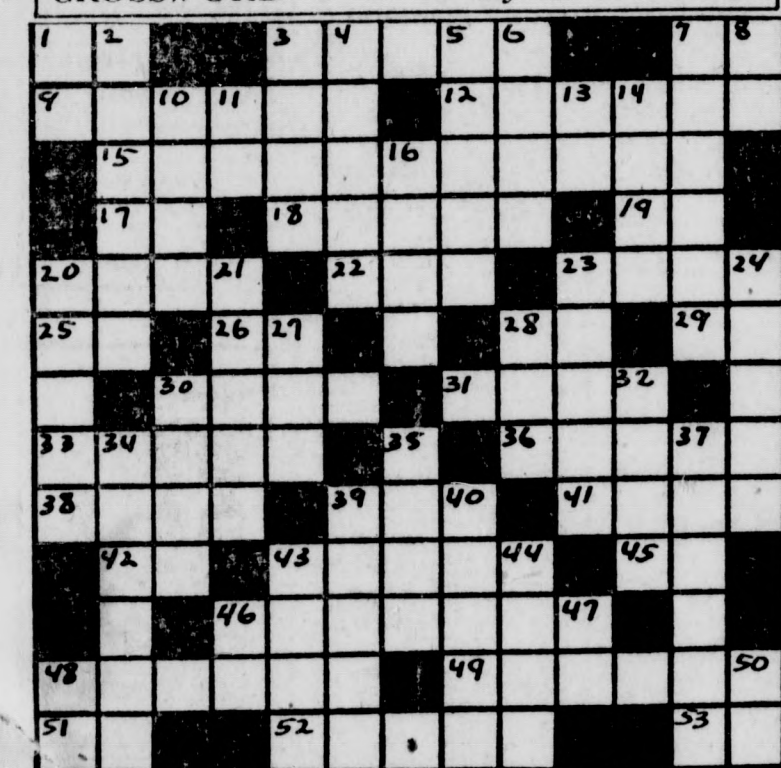

A year would seem ample time to make a few strides in such a comparatively facile task that would reap so much benefit to the city.

Dave Massing, City college of San Francisco advertising and commercial art major, was awarded a scholarship to the San Francisco Academy of Advertising Art, starting this February after completion of his sophomore year.

Massing is but one of three commercial art majors from the college to be awarded this scholarship. The other two are Barney Wan, who is now part time instructor on men and women's fashion design at the academy, and Antonio Rogue, currently completing a course in commercial art there.

My Mad World

WESTERN FEATHER RIVER — More than 24 hours have passed on the train, comforting rocking hours, and we have seen some of the West's most spectacular scenery. California Canyon and later in Utah and Colorado deep russet gorges through which ocean waters once entered to create a great inland sea. Traces of the days of the sea's dominion still remain, giving the landscape a strange, heaped bleak grandeur.

Lowering grey skies continually ahead promise snow but except for a light dusting on distant ranges little is seen.

Past storms have heaped large chunks of ice along the banks of the Colorado river, a sluggish muddy stream dreaming of deeds to be accomplished later on.

The train's gentle rocking motion produces a semi-comatose state which dulls the threat of the deadline (tonight, at Denver) and permits one to let the hours slip by, without ever settling down to work. After all, while one is writing, a beaver dam or a long string of herefords placidly following the leader might be passed unnoticed.

Cone Canyon, one of the longest and deepest of western chasms, is behind us, the darkness of Moffat tunnel has swallowed us up. Today's effort is finished and we can now doze our way to Denver, possibly dreaming of Chicago's Opera Club, if it is still there.

Opened by former members of the Chicago Civic Opera group, it offers an unbeatable combination: Good food, pleasant atmosphere and grand opera.

Seems almost too good to be true. Let you know next week.

COUNTY PEOPLE
PAY $34655.000
YEARLY TO STATE

People of San Mateo county are paying about $34,655,000 just to finance the state government's $1,394,000,000 expenditure program for 1953-54, California Taxpayers' association declared today.

This is on top of the about $155,463,000 which must be paid to carry this county's share of the $6,250,000,000 federal tax costs which fall on Californians as part of the $70,902,000,000 revised federal spending estimates for this year, 1953-54.

It is also on top of the heavy local tax bill to finance the county, cities, school districts, and special districts in the county.

"Unless the state legislature at its March session holds a tight lid on state spending, new and increased state taxes are a real danger," the taxpayers' association said.

"These past two years the state of California has run 'in the red' some $152,000,000 in its general fund—covered by the war-built surpluses of earlier years," the group explained.

"If the legislature is to spread

School Employees Of County Produce More
Than $2,000,000 Taxes

School employees of San Mateo County produced over 2 million dollars for Uncle Sam during 1953, according to County School Superintendent James R. Tormey.

Tormey's office last week mailed some twelve pounds of W-2 (Withholding Tax Statement) forms to the Director of Internal Revenue, indicating a total of $2,035,079.38 withheld from the salaries of school employees during 1953. This total compares with $1,621,908.48 last year. Tormey estimated that for 1954 total withholdings will come close to 2 1/2 million dollars.

EXPENDITURE PER STUDENT AT JEFF HIGH
IS SLIGHTLY LOW

At Jefferson Union High school, the current expenditure per student in average daily attendance, $404.84, is the second lowest amount among San Mateo county high school districts, according to figures released today by the county superintendent's office.

Comparison of assessed valuations indicates that the local high school district has less valuation per student than any other high school in San Mateo county.

The total assessed valuation in the district for the fiscal year 1952-1953 was $41,936,694.

The fast-dwindling surpluses of the state as far as possible, it must have the backing of every economy-minded man and woman in California.

"The welcome, but small federal tax reduction which the people are now enjoying could be wiped out by state tax increases.

"Citizen demands to their legislators for state economy can prevent the loss of federal tax relief," the association said.

WHERE THERE'S LOVE THERE'S HOPE!

Word Of Caution Is Given To Taxpayers

A word of caution to taxpayers who expect to receive tax refunds this year, was issued yesterday by Glen T. Jamison, District Director of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Jamison stated, "It has been called to my attention that many taxpayers, in preparing their 1953 income tax returns, are entering the amount of tax overpayment they want refunded to them in the wrong space.

There are two spaces provided opposite line 8, page 1, on form 1040. The taxpayer has the option of designating whether he wishes his overpayment to be credited to 1954 estimated tax, by using the left-hand space, or that he wants it refunded to him, in which case, he enters the amount in the right-hand space. My word of caution was simply that greater care should be taken by the taxpayer in preparing his return. If he wants his refund, he must be sure to enter the amount of the overpayment in the proper space."

WALK SAFELY

"Don't walk yourself to death." Though the advice is simple, 882 Californians failed to heed it and paid with their lives last year.

Most common fallacy in human judgment, as indicated by a survey, was failure to look both ways before crossing streets and highways.

Almost four of every ten pedestrians killed met death by dangerous mid-block crossings.

Pedestrians must remember their responsibility to obey the traffic regulations. They must also be constantly on the alert for the mistakes that too many motorists make. Listed are the important points for all pedestrians to follow.

1. Always walk facing traffic if no sidewalks are provided.
2. Wear or carry something white when walking at night.
3. Use crosswalks whenever possible.
4. When the light turns green be sure that all cross traffic has stopped before you start across the street.
5. Always look both ways before stepping off the curb.
6. Be constantly aware of the danger that exists until you reach the far curb.

Accident Report (Jan. 25 to Jan. 31)
Total: Five accidents.

One Of Nine Drivers
In State Cited For Vehicle Violations

SACRAMENTO — During 1953 one of every nine motor vehicle drivers in the state was cited by a member of the California Highway Patrol for failure to observe traffic regulations.

"A ghastly by-product of this disregard for traffic laws was 3376 persons dead and upward of 110,000 injured," said Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell today following a review of provisional reports on the 1953 traffic toll.

"Seven per cent of all drivers, or almost one-half million, were observed committing dangerous acts while their vehicles were in motion. These are the violations that most often result in death or injury," Caldwell emphasized.

The state's 6,017,000 licensed drivers received 524,383 citations and 165,560 warnings from members of the Patrol last year for traffic law infractions. Of the citations issued, 450,717 were for hazardous accident causing violations. These figures represent increases over the 439,324 total citations and 368,701 moving violation arrests made during 1952. Warnings dropped from 241,797 to 165,560.

The primary concern of the Highway Patrol is the protection of all users of the highways. At the same time, the primary objective of every motorist should be to drive within the laws," Caldwell declared.

Ridgely Cummings Reports

Every once in a while, at some literary conference or writers' class, I run into a jittery fellow who announces that he is suffering from writer's block. He sits down at the typewriter and nothing comes out.

I feel for him but I can't reach him. That is to say, I'm aware that the malady exists but it hasn't hit me.

Sometimes I suffer periods of laziness and will sharpen pencils, empty the garbage, take my electric razor apart and look for other chores to perform rather than put that first clean sheet of paper in the machine. But it is only a general shiftlessness and not a block.

Now I've been reading a most unusual book which sheds some light on the problem. It is a novel by Arthur Koestler, the same man who wrote the powerful "Darkness At Noon."

That one was made into a play with Claude Rains in the starring role as the old Bolshevik who remained true to his principles despite the twists and turns of his Party's policy, who was tortured and brain-washed and dies clinging to his integrity.

When the play reached the west coast it was Edward G. Robinson who played the central role. All the critics said he and the play were very good and I could have wangled passes to it but something intervened and I failed to see it. Which is too bad for it would have lent depth to what I have to say.

The more a writer knows about a subject, the better he writes, or even if he uses only a fraction of his knowledge. The rest, the substratum that he leaves out, seems in some mysterious way to enrich the parts he puts on paper.

Koestler's current book, or at least it is current for me, though it came out in 1951, is titled "The Age of Longing."

Like his "Arrival and Departure" which had to do with refugees in Portugal, and "Thieves in the Night," which dealt with Israel, this one is also strongly political in orientation. For Koestler is, I believe, an apostate communist, and his literary life seems focused around his need to justify his present political beliefs.

Last summer I mingled with a group of Stanford students and graduates who had enjoyed the pleasure, dubious for them, of spending an evening with Koestler in Palo Alto. They reported he was a brilliant talker but dogmatic, given to impassioned monologues.

As I was reading "Age of Longing" I kept seeing the author as the Stanfordites described him. For a time this disturbed my pleasure in the novel but soon Koestler's complexity of thought and his originality of expression wined out the unfavorable description.

A dozen well-realized characters stalk through the pages of this book and half of them are writers of one sort or another. As a writer myself I was naturally interested in their technical problems and Koestler describes these problems in vivid detail.

At least two of the characters are victims of writer's block, finding themselves reduced to impotent silence.

One is a Frenchman, Julien, a famous poet until he fought alongside the Loyalists in the Spanish revolution of 1937. There he became disillusioned with the treachery of the communists and returned to France to nurse his bitterness in silence. In explaining why he writes no more, he says:

"Art is a contemplative business. It is also a ruthless business. One should either write ruthlessly what one believes to be the truth, or shut up. Now I happen to believe that Europe is doomed. . . . But I also happen to believe in the ethical imperative of fighting evil, even if the fight is hopeless."

He goes on to explain that these two beliefs are contradictory, that if he writes on the assumption that Europe will succumb to the spreading power of totalitarian communism he will be guilty of snouting defeatist propaganda, which he doesn't want to do.

"European art is dying out," he says, "because it can't live without truth, and its truth has become arsenic."

It seemed to me that Julien's trouble was largely a lack of faith in the intelligence of his readers, that he could have written honestly, trusting that others might agree with him that there was an ethical imperative to fight evil even if the cause were lost.

The other writer with a mental block has a similar problem, the converse of Julien's but still basically the same. He is a Russian named Leontiev and he has been writing lies so long that he suffers from "fatigue of the synapses."

The synapses, Koestler tells us, are little electrical junctions in the brain. They link up the millions of brain cells and across them nervous impulses must pass if one is to talk, to think, to write.

Leontiev, a Hero of Culture, has been abusing his synapses for thirty years as an ideological spokesman for the red regime. Each time he twisted the truth to further his own career, certain toxic substances were deposited at the synapses. Finally comes the point where they are paralyzed by the accumulated poisons of the years. Leontiev is a sick, frustrated man.

Rather than face complete stultification, Leontiev rebels. Suddenly he starts speaking and writing the truth, as he sees it. Naturally that is the end of him as a Hero of Culture, but it is his beginning as a genuine human being, one who suddenly feels free and happy.

These two case histories were immensely encouraging to me. For years now I have been going my own way, writing what I wanted, what seemed important to me, making very little money and being continually urged by various friends to start "slanting."

"Why don't you take a couple of weeks off and try slanting a story for the Saturday Evening Post?" they ask. "Then you would have enough money to write the way you want for six months."

Instinctively I rejected the advice, without knowing exactly why, feeling that a slant wasn't something you could turn on and off. Now Mr. Koestler has explained the matter for me. It was my synapses that were rebelling. They didn't want any poisons accumulating around them.

Not that I think the Post is poisonous. It's just that its editors and I look at life differently. What is their truth is not mine. I've occasionally sent them stories but they always bounce right back by return mail.

And probably it's just as well too. For with one Post check in my bank account I'd be tempted to start pouring it on my synapses, making the words come out in a manner to please the Post editors. And before long writing would become a laborious chore instead of a delightful occupation.

As Koestler has one of his characters put it, "No one can go on rapping his conscience indefinitely."

FBI CONFERENCE
SLATED FOR SF

William M. Whelan, Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced today that an FBI Law Enforcement Conference on Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property will be held in April in San Francisco.

Mr. Whelan said more than 100 conferences of this type have been scheduled this year by the FBI on a regional basis throughout the United States and are designed to cover confidence game swindles, fraudulent checks, major thefts and other varied violations which fall within the classification of interstate transportation of stolen property. The conference will be aimed at bringing about additional coordination among law enforcement agencies and improved efficiency in dealing with these crimes. They will be operated on a forum basis providing for a mutual exchange of information and knowledge by all participants.

Although the conference will cover numerous types of crimes, Mr. Whelan said the three main phases of discussion will concern fraudulent checks, confidence game swindles, and major thefts.

In the panel on fraudulent checks, the discussion will include information concerning the methods of operation most often used by bad check artists, the jurisdiction of the FBI's Laboratory and Identification Division, and the availability of the FBI's National Fraudulent Check File to local authorities in a criminal case even though a Federal violation may not be involved.

The discussion on confidence game swindles will relate closely to the major theft panel, since interstate transportation of more than $5,000 often is involved in the dubious dealings of the "con man."

Mr. Whelan said this conference will be attended by local, state and county law enforcement officers, FBI personnel, representatives from banks, hotel associations and business groups, and officials from other interested organizations.

The other writer with a mental block has a similar problem, the converse of Julien's but still basically the same. He is a Russian named Leontiev and he has been writing lies so long that he suffers from "fatigue of the synapses."

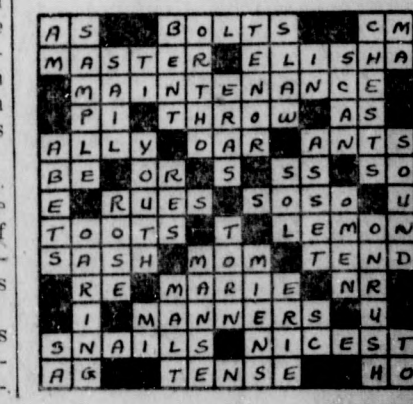

The synapses, Koestler tells us, are little electrical junctions in the brain. They link up the millions of brain cells and across them nervous impulses must pass if one is to talk, to think, to write.

Pershing PTA Enjoys Founders Day Rites

An interesting and ceremonious Founder's Day program, under the direction of Mrs. John Eason, was enjoyed by the General Pershing PTA Wednesday evening, February 3.

The high point of the evening was the awarding of two honorary life memberships. These were presented by Mrs. M. Woodside and Mrs. John Calvin, honorary life members, to Mrs. Eleanor Carle and Mrs. Gethia Mejia, respectively. Mrs. Carle was honored because of her many services to children, services above and beyond the call of duty as a teacher; while Mrs. Mejia was remembered particularly for long years of service to the PTA and to the community, often in behind-the-scenes tasks. At the time of the presentation, Mrs. Calvin called upon a half dozen other faithful workers of years gone by to come up and take a bow.

Before the awards, Mrs. H. R. Mills briefly explained honorary life memberships. She said that since 1925 most of the price of the life memberships has gone into a scholarship fund for needy and worthy students.

During the candle lighting ceremony, candles were lit by four past presidents, Mesdames M. Woodside, I. Marquis, S. Nordgren, and V. Davidson. Before and after the ceremony, Mrs. G. R. Freeland, another past president, sang stanzas of "A Perfect Day," accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Nelson.

Through Susan Schmale, a pupil, Mrs. Eason presented handkerchief corsages to all of the life members, past presidents and faculty.

FOUNDERS DAY ACTIVITIES PLANNED AT JEFF HIGH PTA REGULAR MEETING

Founders' Day will be the highlight of the regular monthly meeting of the Jefferson Union High school PTA, February 11, 8 p.m. at the High School Auditorium.

Dr. Taggart of San Mateo Jr. college will be the speaker. The past presidents will present a candle lighting ceremony. Special invitations have been extended to past presidents, who will be introduced.

who were present and to Mrs. A. W. Robertson, the current president.

Mrs. Eason also introduced Mrs. Gene Schmale and Mrs. George Naylor, who were costumed to represent the PTA founders of 57 years ago, Alice Berney and Phoebe Hearst. Mrs. Schmale and Mrs. Naylor each contributed facts about the early history and aims of the organization.

Preceding the Founders' Day program, Mrs. Mary Larson, Girl Scout leader, and her two Scout daughters, Esther and Evelyn, sang a group of lively songs from their Scout camp.

At the business meeting which preceded the program, Mrs. Robertson reported that the Mothers' March for polio collected approximately $230.

Through an oversight the report of the January 5 PTA meeting did not give credit to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for a $25 check which the VFW contributed to the March of Dimes. The check was presented through Mr. Ted Weeden, whose small daughter was recently stricken by polio. Weeden joined the Mothers' March Tuesday night and turned in the largest collection.

Mrs. Robertson also mentioned plans for the children's Valentine party Friday, February 12. She reminded everyone, too, to keep in mind preparations for the bazaar to be held at the school Friday, February 19, from noon to 8:30 p.m.

The meeting was concluded by a coffee hour for which the committee had prepared a very attractive table.

The chances of your brakes failing when you step on the brake pedal are not very great but that doesn't mean you should neglect them. The complete braking system of an automobile should be checked over carefully at regular intervals, advises the California State Automobile Association. Having this done once a year or every 15,000 miles is a wise rule to follow.

Chinatown Is Ready To Greet New Year

San Francisco Chinatown is ready to welcome in the 4,652nd year of the ancient Chinese calendar. Chinatown is ready to show all who trespass into its famed Grant Avenue that they will become subjects in a kingdom of fun and old world festivities.

A queen, Her Majesty Bernice Woong, has been chosen to reign over the three days and nights of Feb. 5, 6 and 7 of the 2nd Annual Chinese New Year Festival. Its spectacular block-long dragon—only one of its kind in all America—is stirring into action for the grand opening parade of Feb. 5. For three days, it will be a Cathay-by-the-Bay.

For the first time in history, all Chinatown will be wired completely with a public address system which will charm the ear with a musical background of haunting native tunes. Its streets of bazaars as well as its narrow alleys are festooned for gaiety. As in Old Cathay, already store fronts are papered with scrolls expressing sentiments in poetic form.

A pair of lions manipulated by lithesome youths, and resplendent in the colors of pageantry, are eager to stomp and prance and gyrate for the public which yearly looks forward to the Lion Dance.

The venerable elders of the Chinese Six Companies have announced an exhibit of a priceless art treasures collection, never before shown to the general public.

Two voluntary gestures expressive of a total Chinatown-wide co-operation is reported by the Citizens Committee for the Chinese New Year Festival. One, a group of sword-dancing and shadow-boxing masters are coming out of retirement only for this occasion to entertain the public with their breathless skills and mastery of sword-play.

Secondly, and as the last word it seems, several Chinese women's organizations have declared that for the three-days Festival holidays, they will wear only the colorful native celestial garb. Borrowing on this gesture, the Festival Committee is requesting that in Chinatown all the members of the gentler sex, from babes to grandmothers, try to don only Chinese costumes on Feb. 5, 6 and 7.

REGISTRATION IS NOW ON AT CCSF

City College of San Francisco reopened for the spring semester yesterday with registration of former students, according to Dr. F. Grant Marsh, coordinator of student welfare. New students will register today (Friday) and instruction will start on Monday.

Honoring new students, a dance will be held in the college auditorium tonight at 10 p.m. following game with Modesto at 8 p.m. Arrangements for the dance are being made by Alberta Cordill, Associated Student Vice President and social committee members, Bill Boldenweck, Paul Ortiz, Jan Sewall and Jim Vickers.

Estimates of registration for the spring semester indicate that 600 Korean veterans will be enrolled. In addition to regular students from the metropolitan area, students from 42 foreign countries will be represented. Approximately 825 freshmen students are expected. Total enrollment estimates indicate there will be more than 4,875 students at the college during its spring semester.

TWO LOCAL GIRLS AT COLLEGE SKI OUTING

The annual ski-trip sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association of San Mateo Junior College was held on the weekend of January 26.

With faculty advisers, Mrs. Ruth H. Weston, and Miss Virginia Burton, 39 students and alumni of the college went by chartered bus to Strawberry Lodge on Friday morning, staying there and skiing in the vicinity until Sunday evening when they returned to San Mateo.

Skiers reported good skiing conditions, no accidents, and a thoroughly enjoyable outing.

Gail Howes and Dolores Lagomarsino from Daly City were among the students on this trip.

The Hill-Burton Act provides federal money to match State and local funds for construction or enlargement of hospitals in areas where shortages exist.

CORNING

Capuchino Dumps Jeff; Jeff Takes South City

SECOND ROUND PLAY BEGINS TODAY AGAINST MATEO AT BEARCAT GYM

Re-bounding from the shock of their first league loss Friday against Capuchino, Jefferson high school's varsity cagers trampled under long-time rival South San Francisco, 54 to 41, Tuesday at the South City pavilion.

Forward Don Delbon paced scoring with 23 markers, as the Indians started off on top and never were headed.

Guard Wally Honeywell added 10 to the cause, while Center John Madden was hitting again, netting 8.

Call In Reserves

Coach Mike Orlich used a total of 12 players in the game after the going got easier. The local 30s apparently left their onic equipment at home, as they played a commendable floor game but couldn't seem to drop them through where it counts, as the Warriors topped the Daly City lights, 35 to 27.

The Jeff 30s were in command at half-time with a 17-16 lead, but lagged behind, 24 to 22, at the third quarter's close.

With two minutes remaining, Coach Tony Giammona's charges trailed by only three points, 30 to 27, but the South City five rallied, banging through five more points, while the locals were hitting nothing.

Scoring Light

Scoring for the Indian 30s was scanty, with Forward Al Lagomarsino and Guard Rich Rodriguez sharing high honors with six apiece. Guard Rich Watson tallied five. Services of Ken Duncan, regular center, were limited as he had just returned from the sick-bed.

Friday found the local varsity dropping their first league tilt of the season, as the Capuchino quint displayed as smooth floor operation and a high degree of accuracy to upset the favored Jeffs, 58 to 52.

Delbon Again

There was still no stopping Delbon, however, as he posted six field goals and made good on eight charity tosses to amass a 20-point total for the night.

Madden again showed up well under the backboards, compiling 16 points on five field goals, six charity tosses. The past few games Madden has been scoring in two figures, utilizing lay-in shots and hooks.

Guard Tom Costello's absence in the third and fourth quarters hurt the Jeff cause. The ace guard was ejected from the game for five fouls early in the third quarter. Sub Jerry With, a top performer with the 30s last year, performed well in his place, though, hitting eight points.

The varsity was never too far behind, trailing 40 to 37, at the end of the third quarter.

Close Near End

They moved into a 50-50 deadlock with two minutes to remain in the contest, but the Mustangs' Center Jerry Bachich cracked the ice with a jump shot and the Caps moved ahead four points on Fred Hykal's driving lay-up.

With hit with a set shot to move the Jeffs in distance again, but the locals couldn't manage another bucket, while their opponents grabbed two more field goals to wrap up the contest.

Dumped To 2nd

The loss gave the Indians second place in league standings with a 5-1 mark, following the South City game. Capuchino stands on top with a 5-game win skein, no losses.

Giammona's Jeff lights looked miserable under the bucket, as they dropped a 41-22 encounter with the Cap colts. Up until the last quarter the locals had scored only two field goals and 11 points. They staged a sustained rally in the fourth period, garnering as many points in that frame as they had made in the previous three quarters.

Absence of Duncan at the center post was cited as one reason for the lopsided loss, but inaccuracy proved the obvious factor.

Lagomarsino High

Lagomarsino was high scorer for the Jeffs, getting 7, while Forward Bill Storch got 5, Rodriguez and Watson getting four apiece.

The Jeffs trailed 13 to 25 at the end of the initial period, 24 to 10 at half-time and 35 to 11 at the third quarter finish. Their only organized scoring effort came too late in the last canto. The local lights now have a 4-2 won-loss record.

SARTO FIREMEN COPPERS POST WINS AS REC FARM LEAGUE OPENS

Daly City's Farm league, for high school cagers who do not compete on regular school teams, got underway last Thursday with Sarto A.C. and Daly City Fire department posting initial wins.

In Tuesday's play the local Police Department turned the tables on the firemen, dropping them in a tight contest, 44 to 37.

Sarto A.C. found the Ralph's Cleaners opponent no pushover, as the game wasn't decided until the final quarter. At the close of the third period the game was deadlocked, 32 all. Sarto's Forward Babe Anguillo knocked out Ralph's chances when he potted three field goals in a row, all from more than 25 feet out.

George Miller paced the winners with 14 markers, while Anguillo had a 12 total.

Jim Minor, all-PAL end this year on the Jeff football team, led Ralph's with 13 points.

The fire laddies made a rout out of their set-to with Gigli Plumbing in the Thursday night play, plowing under the pipe men, 50 to 33. Larry Kennedy sank 19 for the victors, while Len Hintermann aided the losers' cause with 12 tallies.

Another close game was staged in Tuesday's play, when the cops topped the firemen, 44 to 37. Half-time saw the firemen leading, 20 to 19, but the policemen pulled away, 30 to 28, at the end of the third quarter.

Darrell Chapman broke the smokestackers backs in the final canto when he hit four straight buckets, while the cops hit 17 points, as he hit from every angle of the court.

The league will swing into action again Monday night at the community center.

SMIC Cagers Travel To Cal For Contest

San Mateo Junior college basketball players, paced by Larry Blanchard, former Jeff star, take to the road for several games as the spring semester gets underway. This Friday evening the Meteans play the Cal Blues at the University of California, and Tuesday, February 9, the team will travel to Modesto for a conference game.

The newly elected student body officers have just decided that the home game February 11 will benefit the March of Dimes. City College of San Francisco plays at San Mateo that night, and San Mateo will donate the game funds to the Dimes campaign.

All youngsters interested may contact Flansburg at PL 5-1465.

THUR MEAT CO. PULLS AWAY IN DC KEG LEAGUE

While the No. 2 team was taking a three-game drubbing, League Leader Thur Meat Co. handily disposed of No. 3 King's Market, to move far and away in front in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league.

The butchers took a pair from the marketmen to go out in front with 35 wins, 22 losses.

Adeline Market also copped a double, moving them into second place at a not too dangerous distance with a 31-26 mark.

Former runner-up, Paul's Flowers, took three losses on the chin from Kennedy Electric, and are now in a tie for third with King's, Daly City Eagles, Lombardi Auto Service and Pearson & Rector, each holding 30-27 records.

Ralph's Cleaners, last week right in contention, was humbled by dropping three to the lowly last-place Orphans.

Kennedy Electric and the Orphans shared high team series honors with 26-22 scores.

The Orphans also gave a good accounting of themselves of the evening with a 913. Their victims, Ralph's, won second high team game with a 909.

High individual game went to Bob Luetze of Homes by Sterling, who hit a 225. Ralph's Mike Orlich was second with a 216 chalking.

TAKE CORNERS SLOWLY

Go around those corners slowly, advises the National Automobile Club. Squeezing around corners at high speeds will scrape miles off your tires.

DELBON CAN HIT PAL MARK

Jefferson Cage Ace Averages 21 Points

Jefferson High School Forward Don Delbon, leading the Peninsula Athletic league varsity scoring race with 129 points, appears to have a good chance to break the PAL scoring record of 265 points.

The unerring forward has racked up his 129 points in six games. His closest competitor is Bucky Kahler of San Mateo, with 90.

Delbon still has a total of six league games to play.

If he continues at his present pace, he would have 258 points at the season's close, 7 points shy of the record.

However, it's possible that Delbon can improve on his performances to date. In some of the past games he has played only half the time.

With 40 minutes of play against teams like Half Moon Bay (he scored 31 against them last time) a new PAL scoring record may be within the realm of possibility.

At present Delbon is averaging 21.5 points per game. An average of 22.1 would have to be maintained to crack the record.

Conference Leading Staters Resume Play At Humboldt

San Francisco State's basketball team, currently leading the Far Western Conference, resumes league play tonight and tomorrow against Humboldt State College at Arcata.

The Gators, traditionally a fast break team, surprised Sacramento State twice by slowing the pace.

The San Franciscans are a small team by college standards, however, and must depend primarily on speed. Center Al Desin, the Gators' tallest man at 6-3, is the leading scorer with 227 points in 16 games.

Farmer will probably open with Desin at the pivot, with Glyden Mayfield and Henry Fort at forwards and Bob Johnson at the guards. Mayfield is the Gators' second scorer with 180 markers in 16 games.

Fort and Johnson, who are both freshmen from El Cerrito High, have shown tremendous improvement in late season play.

GIANNECCHINI IN TRAINING AT FORT ORD

Leo Gianecchini, Daly City's ace right-hander who was signed recently by the St. Louis Cardinals, has arrived at Fort Ord and is undergoing basic training there, it was learned this week.

Shortly after the 21-year-old former Jefferson high star was signed to appear with the Fresno Cardinals, farm team of the St. Louis outfit, he received his orders to report for induction.

The well-known local baseball figure, who campaigned for the Sarto A.C. in past years, shouldn't be lonesome at the army encampment, however. Also stationed there are Tito Sarto and Johnny Olese, who were teammates of Gianecchini's on the Sarto club.

Whether Gianecchini will play at Ord is not known as yet. He still has at least two months of basic training to complete, and the season should be well underway by that time.

It was rumored that Card Scout Tony Robello planned to visit the chucker at Ord, probably to determine if Gianecchini would get a chance to compete there.

Space Enthusiasts Trek To "Moon" Via Planetarium

Come Friday, February 12, an eager group of Marchbank space enthusiasts will take a "Trip to the Moon." However, no space suits or rocket ships will be required on this trip because it will take place at Morrison's Planetarium in Golden Gate Park. This hour and a half show will be instructive as well as entertaining. Science classes ought to have some lively discussion after this.

The kids will make a day of it. They'll blast off from the Park at 10:30 and reach their destination in time for a picnic lunch. They'll have time to visit the aquarium and museum before the Planetarium show at 2 p.m.

There is still time to join in the fun. The cost including transportation will be 40c. Sign up now with the Marchbanks director.

LOTS OF tacos and frijoles were on the diet for John Wayne when he filmed "Hondo," which opens today (Wednesday) at the Savoy theater. The epic adventure story introduces Broadway star Geraldine Page to the screen as Wayne's leading lady. It was filmed in Warner Color.

News From The Parks

At the moment one of the bigger desires at Westlake playground is to start a girls volleyball team.

A few of the girls from Jefferson High school have been desperately trying to form such a team after schools and on Saturdays.

However, with the organizations still in the beginning stages, there are quite a few positions open on the team. If you are a girl between the ages of 13 and 16, we would like very much to have you attend our volleyball school.

The current fad here at Westlake is not only one of the author's old favorites, but also, I'm sure that of your mom and dad's... namely kite flying. With the absence of telephone poles and wires, it seems that most of the boys and girls have found the upper section of Westlake to be ideal for flying their kites.

Our boy of the week has been forced to the sidelines in favor of a pretty blue-eyed, feather cut brunette, who is currently in her sophomore year at Jefferson. Our replacement, who is well mannered, athletically inclined, and always willing to cooperate in all playground activities is Joyce Avrell. Incidentally, Joyce, along with her frequent companion Judy, are the two people that have contributed so much in organizing the new girls volleyball team. All of us at Westlake playground enjoy having Joyce with us, and it is our contention that Joyce will always be an inspiration for all future girls of the week here at Westlake.
